

TRANSCRIPT PREPARED BY THE CLERK OF THE LEGISLATURE
Transcriber's Office

February 28, 2000 LR 291

And how does the poor client feel when the client's protector says I'm afraid of the judge? Then what is the client supposed to feel especially if he or she is accused of a crime? The criminology often is manifested through the conduct of judges rather than that of defendants and a worse kind when it comes from judges.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Chambers. There are no further lights on. Senator Chambers, did you wish to close on your motion to indefinitely postponed LR 291CA?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Yes, I do, and, Mr. President, speaking of would I like to close, I would like figuratively to close my hands around the throat of these misbehaving judges and just throttle them until they say I'll be good. And you know they're not. Just like you all promise God that if he won't kill you when you get sick, you're going to do better and you don't, and he has to know you're lying, just like you know your kids are not going to do better. This reminds me, based on what judges do, of a song Nat King Cole sang about the buzzard and the monkey. The buzzard took the monkey for a ride in the air. The monkey thought that every thing was on the square. The buzzard tried to throw the monkey off his back. The monkey grabbed his neck and said, listen, Jack, and this is what I tell the judges, straighten up and fly right; straighten up and stay right. Straighten up and fly right; cool down, papa, don't you blow your top. The buzzard told the monkey, you are choking me; release your hold and I will set you free. The monkey looked the buzzard right then in the eye and said your story is touching but it sounds like a lie. Then the refrain, straighten up and fly right. That should be the philosophy when we deal with these judges. Because the bill will be subject to a motion to advance, I'll have a chance to speak at least one more time without adding a motion. So, Mr. President, that motion which currently is before us I now withdraw.

SENATOR CUDABACK: No objection, it is withdrawn. The question before the body now is advancement of LR 291CA to E & R Initial. Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you. Mr. President, this is the last time I'll speak on this bill at this point, but it does have
